England Declares Patience Exhausted in War Debt Tangle

HOME TOWN STUFF

It does no harm now and then to pass out a few bouquets as we go along. We all like to get bouquets, but so few of us ever seem to think of handing them out to others. When one does something worth while, we ought to tell him. It costs only a trifle, but how much it may mean may never be known.

William Stokes, better known among his friends as Blick, though no one seems to know how he acquired such a nickname, has just completed his academic course in Baylor University and has been awarded a degree. That of itself may not seem remarkable, but when it is pointed out that he did the required four years' work in three years and since the Fall of 1927 has been part time instructor in the department of political science, carrying his studies along with teaching duties, it is only stating a fact to say that he has made a record of which any youth may be proud.

This information did not come from young Mr. Stokes. He came to this office yesterday to pay a little visit with H. T. The two of us have been friends since he was a toddling youngster and the talk yesterday was about his plans for the future. He didn't have anything to say about his record as a student at Baylor. The information about his record came from a copy of the Dallas Times-Herald of last Sunday. So without his knowledge, this clipping is being reproduced as a means of letting his friends know what he has accomplished and as a sincere compliment to a fine young man.

The Times-Herald says: "William N. (Blick) Stokes of Vernon, Tex., and nephew of Deputy U. S. Marshal W. P. Stokes of 1002 North Madison, Dallas, graduated from Baylor University last Wednesday with a record equivalent to none in the annals of the institution. Since the fall of 1927 he has been part-time instructor in the department of political science, being the youngest instructor Baylor has ever had. He was only 19 at the time he became a pedantic professor.

"Stokes is also assistant in the English department and was for some time curator of the Baylor Browning library, which is the largest of its kind in the world. He is a member of Sigma Tau Delta, honor English fraternity, Pi Gamma Mu, honor society in history. He was also president of the senior class this summer. Young Stokes has one of the largest Shakespearean collections in the State of Texas, according to Dr. A. J. Armstrong, head of Baylor's English department.

"Blick" will be in the law school of Baylor next year and will continue to teach in the political science and English departments. He plans to go to Harvard after getting his law degree from Baylor."

For the second time this year one of the hands in this labor temple went back a bunch of pictures to what he is seeing on his vacation. This second offender is Banks Bennett, one of The Record's printers, and it comes from Denver, Colo. The pictures are beautiful and no doubt Mr. Bennett is enjoying his outing, but he is likely to find a cool reception awaiting him when he returns. That's about the only cool thing we can offer people in Texas. H. T. started out to keep a list of the people who have sent him picture cards about their vacation trips, with a view of getting even with them some day. But the list became so long it seemed wise to abandon the project.

Go to Sunday school tomorrow.

SNOWDEN SAYS DECISION MUST BE MADE SOON

British Chancellor Makes Clear Government Has No Desire To Have Demands Satisfied by Further Sacrifice on Part of Germany.

The Hague, Aug. 24.—(A-P)—Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, and storm center of the Hague reparations conference, again moved into the fore front of the deliberations today with a letter to Henri Jaspar, Belgian Premier, in which he declared the British delegation had exercised nearly all the patience at its command in debating Britain's demands for a larger share of Young plan payments with her four war-time allies.

Mr. Snowden said there must be a final decision one way or the other without delay in stating the British position for the fourth time to his colleagues of the allied delegations.

He cut short a conversation of the British with the four other creditor powers, which were counting on concessions by Germany to make possible an increase in the British share of reparations, making clear Great Britain had no desire to have demands satisfied by further sacrifice on the part of Germany.

Pessimism deepened to gloom at the Hague as the contents of the letter became known this afternoon. "It is all over," was the comment of French circles.

TEXANS TO PAY HIGHER TAXES

TEXAS LEVY IS FIXED AT TOTAL OF 68 CENTS BY AUTOMATIC BOARD

Austin, Aug. 24.—(A-P)—Texans will pay four cents more on the $100 taxable value this year as a result of the Automatic Tax Board's action yesterday in fixing a State rate of 68 cents. It was 64 cents last year.

The levy was computed as follows: ad valorem for general fund purposes, 30; school fund, 31 cents and Confederate pensions seven cents.

The general fund drew 22 cents, the schools 35 cents and the pensions seven cents last year.

The ad valorem for general fund purposes was increased to meet demands made by appropriation bills passed by the 41st Legislature. Although appropriations were less than two years ago, Governor Moody said the bulk of the expenditures would be made during the first year of the biennium, necessitating the eight cent increase for that score.

The school levy was decreased from the maximum permitted by the constitution for the first time in many years. It had been 35 cents since 1918, when constitutional limit was raised from 20 cents. The 31 cents, together with the $3,300,000 surplus in the school fund and its share of the four-cent gasoline tax, will give each child of scholastic age $47.50 for the year.

Nationals May Be Ordered To Evacuate Harbin

London, Aug. 24.—(A-P)—A Peiping dispatch to the Daily Mail today said the diplomatic body there was considering ordering evacuation of all Nationals from Harbin, Manchurian railroad center, in view of continued reports of a Russian advance against that city.

Anticipation of serious trouble in the event the Soviet far eastern army moves against the railway sent was held here to be back of their deliberations. The Soviet advance has been reported as imminent for the last two or three days.

The London Times, summarizing events of the past week editorially, today seemed doubtful peace would be maintained and thought the hopeful tone taken by Tokyo could be discounted by the fact it was Japan's interest to see that war was averted. The Times suggested Japan's wishes were father to the thought.

PREMIER M'DONALD MAY GO TO DEBT MEETING

London, Aug. 24.—(A-P)—Possibility was advanced in some circles here today that Premier Ramsay MacDonald, after arriving in London today, would make a hurried airplane dash to The Hague, Netherlands, to confer with Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Arthur Henderson, foreign minister, regarding the situation at the reparations conference there.

Most morning newspapers described the situation at The Hague as one of chaos and confusion.

DALLAS MAYOR IN LEGAL TILT OVER CAR LAW

Officials Called Before District Judge in Connection With Ordinance Directing Impounding of Automobiles for Violations.

Dallas, Aug. 24.—(A-P)—The mayor and five of his aides were under orders to appear today before District Judge Claude McCallum in another legal joust brought on by the new ordinance directing the impounding of automobiles found parked in violation of traffic laws.

Policeman J. E. Philpot's refusal to permit deputies sheriff to rescue under a writ of sequestration from Judge McCallum's court, an automobile belonging to T. K. Irwin from the pound caused the judge to cite Mayor J. Waddy Tate, Police Commissioner W. C. Graves, Police Chief Claude Trammell, Assistant Police Chief A. H. Dellinger and Philpot for contempt.

Deputies Bert Wisnand and Guy Thomas went after the machine yesterday, telling Philpot they had their orders from the judge. Philpot said he had his, too, and they could not take the car.

BLAZE CAUSES $500,000 LOSS

NUMBER OF BUILDINGS ARE WRECKED BY FIRE IN SPOKANE

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 24.—(A-P)—A mass of glowing embers covering damages estimated variously from $250,000 to $500,000 was all that remained here today of a dozen dwelling houses, an apartment dwelling, a sanitarium and the storage and fuel yard of the McGoldrick Lumber Company. They were destroyed when a blaze started last night in a lumber pile and soon was whipped into a conflagration by a gale-like wind.

Every piece of fire fighting equipment in the city, but five, fought the blaze for six hours before it was brought under control.

Industrial property, including factories and warehouses, worth several million dollars, was menaced. Three firemen were treated for injuries. Twenty patients in the Payne sanitarium, razed soon after the fire started, were taken from their beds just as the first tongue of flame was licking the sides of the building. Children in a nearby orphanage were taken to safety, but a shift in the wind saved the building.

OFFICERS ARREST NEGRO ON LIQUOR CHARGE FRIDAY

Answering a disturbance call and acting on various tips, city officers arrested Ira "Skinny" Crittendon and confiscated nearly one gallon of corn whiskey from his home on Deaf Smith Street, in the "Flats" last night. Crittendon was lodged in the Wilbarger County jail to await a preliminary hearing, or action of the Grand Jury. No date has been set for the hearing.

The officers found the negro asleep on the porch of his home with a loaded shotgun nearby. A brief search revealed the liquor, which was contained in two half-gallon jars.

Hickville, N. Y., Aug. 24.—(A-P)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh were up for another training flight today but the privacy they hoped for was denied them. EYES OF U. S. WATCH MANY AIRPLANE FLIGHTS

(By The Associated Press)

The eyes of America are turned skyward today.

Far out over the Pacific the Graf Zeppelin was blazing a new trail toward Los Angeles on the next to last lap of her world flight.

Converging on Cleveland were three air derbies, the "powder puff" derbies from Santa Monica, the first section of men flyers which took off from Portland, Ore., yesterday and the second section of men derbys flying from Miami Beach, Fla.

Somewhere on the air road to Los Angeles from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., was Capt. Roscoe Turner attempting to set a new record for a one day east-west trans-continental flight.

On the Severn River off Annapolis, Md., Lieut. Al Williams was tuning up his little flying engine.

Over Chicago dived one of the ever present planes, the "Chicago-We Will," striving to break the world record of the St. Louis Robin.

And at Cleveland awaiting the arrival of the aerial derbys and the opening of the aeronautical exposition next week were flyers from all over the country bringing the latest types of planes and gliders and fast army pursuit ships for display and tests.

POLICE SEARCH FOR 2 ROBBERS

BEAUMONT WOMAN SLUGGED AFTER LOSING PURSE AND $40 IN MONEY

Beaumont, Aug. 24.—(A-P)—Seeking two men who slugged Mrs. Sadie Kinitment, robbed her of $40 and threw her from an automobile, officers had only an ephemeral clue based on telephone calls today.

The calls received by two ambulance companies requesting that they send machines to the place where Mrs. Kinitment was found unconscious were traced to a garage, but from that point on the trail had been unproductive.

On her way home from a library yesterday, Mrs. Kinitment accepted an invitation of the men that she ride, but near her home they declined to let her leave the automobile, taking her instead about five miles into the country. There they demanded her purse, refusing, she was struck. The woman said she remembered nothing more of the attack.

GRAF ZEPPELIN BRAVES STORM IN PACIFIC HOP

Giant Dirigible Continues Globe-Encircling Flight Across the Greatest of All Oceans, Making Good Time and Without Serious Incident.

San Francisco, Aug. 24.—(A-P)—Boring her way through thick fog near the middle of the North Pacific, the dirigible Graf Zeppelin today rapidly approached the half-way mark in her pioneer flight from Tokyo to the United States.

In touch with radio stations on both sides of the Pacific, the mistress of the air was able to make the most of weather reports. The story of the flight as pieced together from wireless messages intercepted on American shores showed that the air liner was increasing her speed, heading more directly east all the time and sailing about 1,300 feet above the water.

A message sent by the dirigible at 4 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, gave word that the ship had covered 1,660 miles in the little more than 26 hours since leaving Japan. She was making 50 knots (about 57 miles an hour). Maintaining that pace she should reach the American coast Monday at that time she had averaged better than 62 miles an hour since leaving Tokyo. This takes into account her slow progress during the first few hours of the flight.

Skies were overcast near the 170th Eastern longitude line as the Zeppelin approached that area but there was something in the elements to cheer passengers and crew. The sun momentarily broke through the fog banks and the weather on the surface appeared clear.

Reports of the air liner's position indicated she was gradually working northward. At the outset of the flight the great ship headed almost due east to take the best possible direction in view of existing weather. Up to this morning she had held general.

MARTIAL LAW IS PROCLAIMED AFTER CLASHES

British Warships Ordered To Proceed To Palestine To Quiet Outbreaks—Latest Reports Give Dead at Eighteen Arabs and Eleven Jews.

London, Aug. 24.—(A-P)—Martial law has been proclaimed in Jerusalem and a Government censorship of telegrams and cables established after violent clashes yesterday between Arabs and Jews over a long-standing controversy about rights of worship at the Walling Wall.

Latest reports of casualties gave 18 Arabs and eleven Jews killed with scores of injured on both sides. The British warships Berham and Sussex were ordered by the admiral to leave Malta for Palestine on the request of the British high commissioner in Palestine.

Agency reports which escaped the censorship said airplanes were flying over the city to give prompt notice of any further outbreaks today which is the Jewish sabbath.

Although Jerusalem itself was reported quiet sporadic encounters continued in the environs of the city.

CONFLICT STARTED THURSDAY OVER WALLING WALL WORSHIP

Jerusalem, Aug. 24.—(A-P)—Latest unofficial reports this afternoon said eighteen Arabs and eleven Jews had been killed and more than 150 wounded on both sides in fighting between the two races which began yesterday over rights of worship at the Walling Wall.

Wolfgang von Weisel, correspondent of the Berlin Voessische Zeitung, was in a serious condition from knife wounds.

Excitement yesterday was intense. All shops were closed and police in armored cars dashed through the streets in a vain attempt to preserve order.

The assault came as the climax to a day of unrest in which there had threatened continually a clash between the Jews, firm in their conviction of right to use the Walling Wall for worship, and Arabs, assembling by the thousands for their Friday prayers at the Mosque of Omar.

Arabs previously stoned a group of aged Jewish worshippers who assembled at the Walling Wall, and assaulted the Jews, one near the American colony and another at Motza. A Russian Christian, who was mistaken by the Arabs for a Jew, was severely beaten up in the old city.

County Judge Perry S. Robertson was the second county official to be placed on the stand. He testified his maximum yearly salary was $5,000, and it must be earned in fees.

Graf Zeppelin

erally to a more easterly course, getting almost off the wide great circle ship route as she progressed toward the east.

Aside from the fog, the radio reports indicated there was little to hamper the Zeppelin up to the international date line. It came through yesterday's wind and lightning storm unscathed. It tossed about for a few minutes, however, as rain beat against its silver sides and lightning bolts flashed.

Despite the highly inflammable hydrogen which filled its bag, passengers experienced little uneasiness during the electrical storm. After a short period of discomfort they gathered in the dining salon for dinner as if nothing unusual had happened. The net result was a new experience for the already case-hardened aerial globe trotters and a slight loss of speed.

The present trip of the Graf Zeppelin is the third lap of its round-the-world flight, begun Wednesday at 10:30 p. m. (E. S. T.) at Lakehurst, N. J. The Zeppelin reached Friedrichshafen Saturday, Aug. 10 at 7:33 a. m. (E. S. T.) after a 4,200-mile flight in 35 hours and 24 minutes.

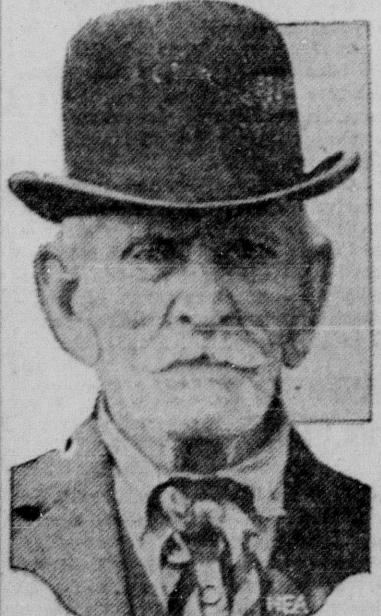

The second lap, from Friedrichshafen to Kasumigaura, was begun Wednesday, Aug. 14, at 10:34 p. m. E. S. T., and ended Monday, Aug. 19, at 4:27 a. m. E. S. T. (6:27 p. m. Tokyo time) after a trip of 6,880 miles in 101 hours and 53 minutes.

After arrival at Los Angeles the Zeppelin officers hope to refuel, make necessary repairs, and continue within a day or so to Lakehurst, completing its globe circling trip toward the latter part of next week, if all goes well.

COBB MAKES STATEMENT IN REPLY TO TIMES EDITORIAL

I wish to make the following reply to an editorial published in the Vernon Times this week:

Where the editor takes the Commission Court and myself especially, I take it to task for trying to open a road leading off of the Harold-Rock Crossing road in a southwest direction through the Paine-McGaha pool and on to the Grayback field. I don't mind fair criticism. It's all right if the party criticizing knows anything about the facts in the case. I wonder what the Editor of the Times knows about the conditions relative to roads in these new oil fields. He says he studied his map. I wonder if he could find them.

I doubt it seriously. I wonder if he knows that practically all the pipe and much other material used in these new fields are unloaded at Harold and as the roads are now must be hauled long distances around to reach these fields. I wonder if he has any idea how many school children that were transported this long distance around at great expense and exposure. I wonder if he knows that all of those people are forced to go to the railroad for their mail and, in fact, everything they use. I imagine it's all right for the editor living in a good town with paved streets and paved roads leading out in all directions. Fine churches and schools in a stone's throw, that's fine, but these oil field men and their families, that tell in the dirt and slime to produce nearly half of the wealth of this country they have got all the roads they need.

The editor says the tendency of nearly every one is to hop on the big man. Now I am no Socialist. I admire the man that has the ability and energy enough to get up and accumulate some of this world's goods and when he does that I think he ought to toe the line like a man and bear his part of the burden. That's what a lot of these big boys don't want to do. Now I am no politician. I am no pussyfoot as far as rights are concerned all men are equal.

Now I may be wrong about this road matter but so far the courts have sustained me.

New York, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 4 points and was quiet during early trading. There was continued uneasiness with reference to weather in the southwest, and business was attributed chiefly to evening up of old commitments. Prices worked off under liquidation with December selling down to 15.70 by the end of the first half hour when the market showed net declines of 3 to 5 points.

NEGRO HELD FOR ATTACK ON WOMAN AT HOUSTON

Houston, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A 24-year-old negro ex-convict was held by Houston police today after an alleged attempted attack last night on a 60-year-old white woman.

Although the negro who entered the woman's home had a handkerchief across his face, the woman said she was positive in her identification by his clothes and size.

The negro threatened to kill her if she screamed, then dragged her from the house and threw her on the ground in front of the porch, she said. At that moment her daughter-in-law drove up, and the negro ran. The suspect was released from the state penitentiary Thursday after serving a two-year sentence for burglary from Austin County. He denied the attack.

Events Complimenting Visitors in Vernon of Principal Interest As Warm Weather Curtails Activities

Social events complimenting visitors in Vernon proved to be the principal interest in Vernon social circles during the week, although a number of club parties and birthday socials also filled the afternoons and evenings.

Mrs. M. G. Potet entertained a number of guests with a lovely party Wednesday morning in honor of her house guest, Miss Naomi Potet, of Haskell. Another attractive visitor, who was complimented during the week, was Miss Katherine Hawley of Wichita Falls. Her sister, Mrs. D. D. Bourland, entertained in her honor with a bridge party at her home, east of Vernon Thursday morning. The home was attractively decorated for the occasion in cut flowers and potted plants.

Three tables of guests played bridge during the morning hours. Miss Josephine Flaniken assisted Mrs. Bourland in entertaining.

The social activity of the week was opened on Monday with missionary meetings. The Methodist Women's Society met in circle meetings at the different homes for mission study, while Circle No. 3 of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Benton Love on Stephens Street. Miss Rosalyn Coleman was hostess in the evening to a meeting of the Y. W. A. of the First Baptist Church at her home on Paradise Street. The mission study, "Ann of Ava," was completed at the meeting.

A musical program given by the Girls' Glee Club and orchestra of the Odd Fellow Home in Corsicana furnished a delightful entertainment at Allingham Park Tuesday evening. Approximately 1,000 people attended the program, which was preceded by a picnic given by the local Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges.

Mack Vernon was honored at a small party Tuesday evening at Allingham Park, given by his mother, Mrs. E. A. Vernon, celebrating his ninth birthday. Another birthday party honored Margaret and Clare Christian on their fifth and fourth

Club Fair Will Be in Basement of Court House

The County Club Fair, which has been announced for September 13-14, will be held in the basement of the Wilbarger County courthouse, it was definitely decided by the County agents this week. Miss Emma Gunter, home demonstration agent, is sponsoring the girls' and women's club exhibit, while R. E. L. Pattillo, County Farm Agent, is supervising the boys' club exhibits.

Free trips to the Dallas fair will be offered as prizes for the best exhibit among the first year club girls and fourth year club girls. This exhibit will include sewing and canning with record books and history of the year's work among the girls studying gardening. Those studying poultry may exhibit the same or may substitute the poultry for canning. Prizes will also be given for the best work of the year among the second and third year club girls.

The women's club work exhibit will consist of canned products, sewing, home improvement articles, and a secretary's book including a scrap book of club activities and accomplishments this year. The last feature is a part of the year's work and each club must enter in that exhibit in order to carry out the regular program of work.

The fair this year will make the third year that a standard exhibit has been held in this county as outlined for home demonstration clubs in Texas by the Extension Service Department at A. & M. College.

FACTS ON FARMERS' INCOME

One hears a lot and talks no little about the farmer's income, but the Bureau of Agricultural Economics admits that no one knows just what this income is. While this may seem a bit disconcerting, figures are advanced that provide almost unquestionable basis for an average, and they in no way tend to dispel the popular belief that the farmer is under paid for his labor.

Financial records of 11,851 farms have been turned over to the Department of Agriculture and from them it is deduced that a cash balance of $1,090 represents all the cash the average of this group made available to the owner-operator to pay for his living expenses, take care of interest and principal on debts, as well as interest on investment, and make improvements.

Perhaps the figures cannot be used as average, although the Department is authority for the statement that they may be considered representative because they include large and small farms. If they cannot be considered as average it probably is because farmers who go to the trouble of keeping financial records usually are more progressive than the average and probably give more thought and intelligent work to the operation of their farms. This, then, may very properly give us reason for believing that the real average farm income is below the figure of $1,090.

This certainly does not make one envious of the tiller of the soil. What city dweller does not make more, with no investment, while the farmer often has thousands of dollars invested? Of course the argument may be made that the figures quoted do not allow for house rent which usually must be paid by the urban worker, and for home-grown food products. This is true, but neither do the figures include any allowance for the labor of the members of the farmer's family, and even the women members often spend much time working in the fields.

When the farmer, aided by all the members of his family, and an investment of several thousand dollars cannot realize a net income of more than $1,000, it is rather conclusive proof that something is wrong. And while it is undoubtedly true that the industry itself is partly responsible, because individuals have failed to heed progress in other phases of life which naturally demand change in every industry, there must be other factors in the situation. It may be trite to say that farming is a basic industry, but nevertheless it is, and the laborer engaged in a work so necessary to life should surely be worthy of his hire.

If farmers ever become sufficiently organized to control production, they would be excusable if they were to set prices arbitrarily for a few years. Under present conditions the average urban worker could surely afford to pay slightly higher average prices for food products without reducing his real income below that of the farmer.

A MENACE TO PEACE

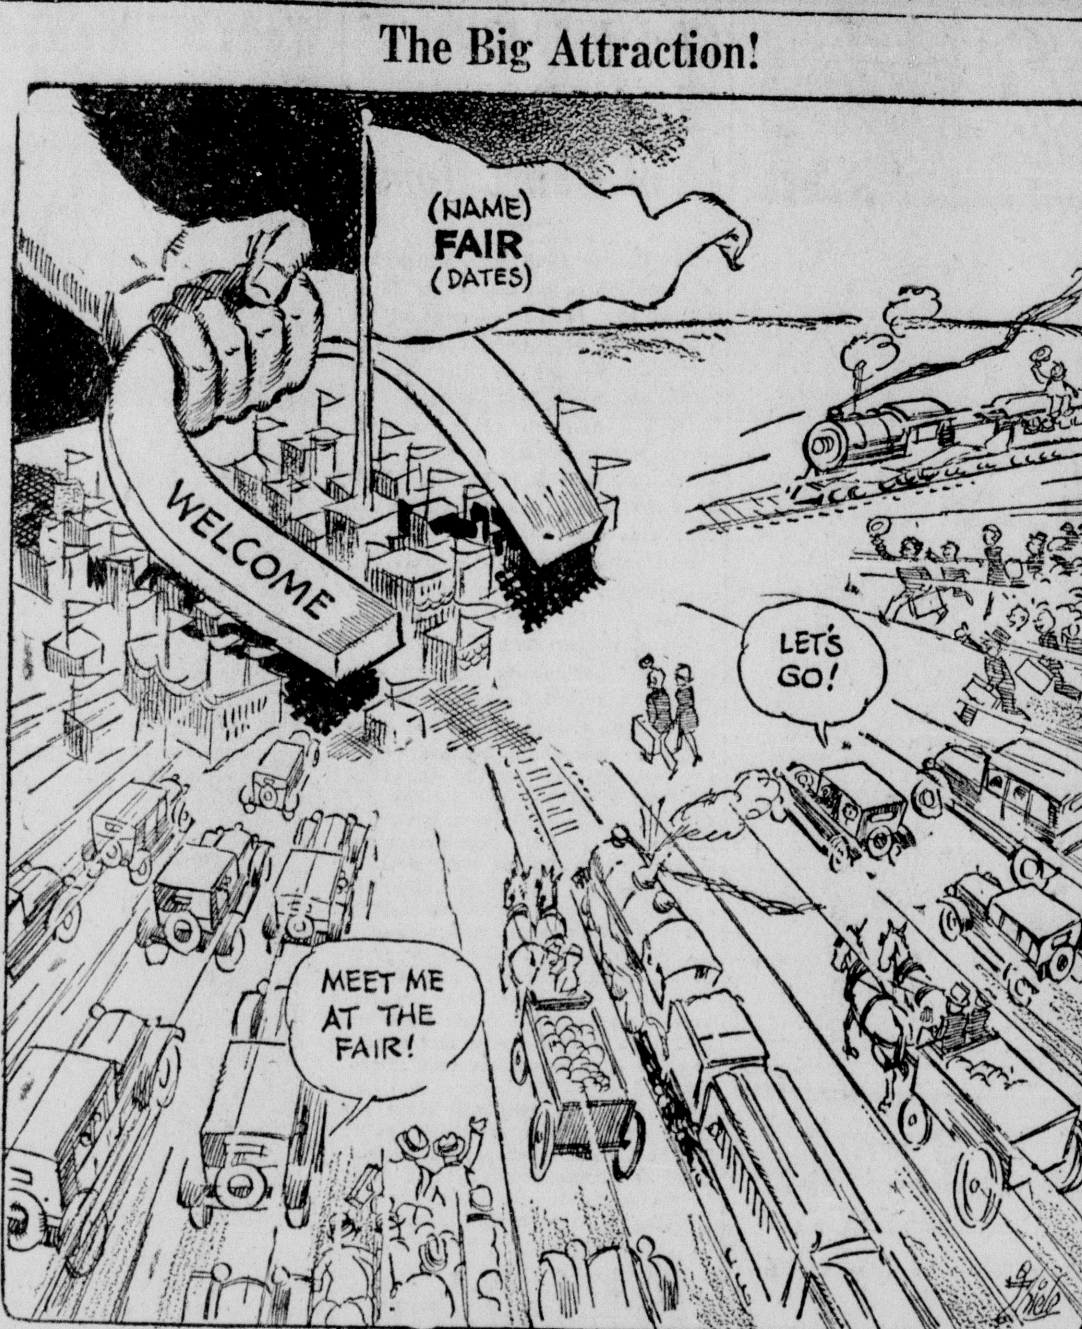

England's refusal to accept the second compromise proposal made by the other creditor powers is irrefutable evidence that no concession is to be made by that nation, but that she expects all of her demands to be substantially met. While there was no discussion as to how far the first proposal of the creditor powers went toward meeting the British demands, English representatives arguing that the plan fulfilled only about 20 per cent of the proposals as outlined by their Government, while the other powers declared that it fulfilled about 60 per cent.

This latest proposal of the creditor powers guaranteed Great Britain 50 per cent of her demands, but England rejected it almost as arbitrarily as she did the first offer. It seems that when dealing with John Bull there are to be no compromise, but every settlement must represent full concession on the part of the other powers or powers involved.

Perhaps it will be best for this conference to end in failure. It would create sentiment against Great Britain that in time might force the Government to modify its arbitrary policy. Peace cannot be established and perpetuated on arbitrary policies among nations, for sooner or later these policies must clash, and then there must be compromise, and naturally compromises are expected to represent concessions on the part of all involved.

As long as England pursues a course that fails to take the plans and policies of other nations into consideration, peace will not be assured. The failure of the present conference will mean that Europe must continue in a state of financial unrest which naturally will be reflected in business and commerce, but amicable relations cannot be established on a permanent basis until England's policy is changed, and it may be as well that the crisis be brought on now as later.

We have seen this domineering spirit block efforts toward arms limitation over a number of years, because a Government believes that she should have the privilege of controlling the seas, and now we see it frustrating efforts to solve the post-war problem of Europe. The policy is recognized and definitely characterized as such by the nations of the world, the safer the remainder of the world will be.

When Phil Allen came home from work he found his wife in the kitchen, regarding the blackened ruins of a steak with tears in her eyes.

"And the company'll be here any minute!" she wailed, looking up at him despairingly.

"Why honey!" Allen sympathized, "how did it happen?"

Carefully, Mrs. Allen lifted the smoking skillet and started toward the sink.

"I can't," she observed bitterly, "I simply can't go clear to the front of the house to answer the telephone, and watch a meal at the same time. I just didn't know I'd left the fire turned up so high!"

Allen hurriedly picked up his hat.

"Tomorrow I'll order an 'extension' telephone put in back here," he said. "And—don't worry, dear. The butcher shop's still open."

Telephones where you need them save time, patience, housewifely strength.

Few know that one or two additional instruments cost considerably less than the single telephone they now have!

in State Coffers

Wilbarger County will contribute approximately $226,440 to the revenue of the state, computations made by Tax Assessor F. A. Newth after the state rate was fixed at 68 cents on the $100 valuation by the Automatic Tax Board in session at Austin yesterday reveal. The property values in Wilbarger total approximately $33,300,000.

Although the state tax rate this year is fixed at four cents more on the $100 valuations than last year, the Wilbarger County property owner's total rate will be less for the past year, due to the sharp reduction in the County rate from $1.25 to $1. The total State and County rate fixed this year is $1.68.

Vernon property owner's tax rate for this year totals $3.53 on the $100 valuation.

SERIOUS TASK CONFRONTS LION FOOTBALL MENTORS

IN SPITE OF RETURN OF TEN LETTER MEN MANY IMPORTANT GAPS CAUSE WORRY TO FANS

With the approach of the 1929 football season, indeed, with the first Vernon High School game less than a month off, comes the all-important question of what the Vernon Lions will do in regard to reaching the question of the return of the letter men. The answer to the question relies on the reply of another question. Who will find the shoes of the departed members of the 1928 crew who gained statewide recognition for their prowess? Who will replace Cox, Coffee, Ramsey, Hindman, C. Sharp, W. Sharp, Stevens and Phillips?

Ten 1928 lettermen and a squad of 50 candidates for the approaching season will attempt to answer the questions, and the examining board will have its first view of the substitutes the latter part of next week when the equipment will be issued at the high school. Observance of actual practice will be postponed until September 2, when the entries for the contest to decide the first eleven men will appear with their mentors on the high school practice grounds.

The task that faces Coaches W. C. Weir and Ralph Binnion of replacing prospective college freshmen on the Vernon High grid machine is not an easy one. A review of the departed members is the explanation. Both ends of the 1928 formation will be men attempting to replace Coffee and Ramsey. Coffee was a unanimous selection for the all-district second team last season. He was an excellent pass receiver, a good defensive player, and a fitting mate for Ramsey at the other end, who was fast, active and strong. Two letter-men from the 1928 squad will present themselves for the end positions. They are Sam Parker and Clifford Bowden.

At the tackle positions comes another replacing question. Clifford Hindman, who participated in more games last season than any other member of the squad with the exception of Cox, will be strong the missing. Hindman filled the position of left tackle dependably with his 185 pounds. He was not flashy but most consistent. Right tackle was divided between Hubert Stevens and Waldon Sharp. Both will be out of the line-up this fall. Rayford Thomas is the only returning letterman for a tackle position.

Near the center of the line is another vacancy, and the man who is fortunate enough to draw the assignment should be duly inspired. C. Sharp will be hard to replace. Strong, fast and consistent, he was a determining factor in the victories scored by the Vernon team. Vernon Manis and Bill Price are the returning guards.

Roy Rodman is due to retain his position at center. With a greater knowledge of the game, he is due to stand out among the district's most praised gridders.

Coming to the backfield, one is discouraged at seeing two vacant places to be filled. There was Byron Phillips, willing and consistent, who seldom carried the ball but who was a good ball blocker, who had ability to pick open spaces for passing and who was an excellent pass receiver. On the defense also he was a good safety man.

It will be difficult to find a man who can back up the line, intercept passes, back the opposing line and block offensive plays as Robert Cox, captain of the 1928 club, did, but that will be easy compared to the task of finding someone who can furnish the inspiration that Cox furnished the Lions last year. His spirit, even in the face of defeat, was the outstanding feature of the inside game. This might not have been realized by the fans at large but to the team it was a tonic.

Four letter men will return to the backfield—four worthy men whose positions will not be novelties to them. They are Emmett Crawford, Buck Lawrence, John Gelhausen, and Hubert Baird. With this line-up comes encouragement and hope. Although light, this band is capable, active and dependable.

Although his team will fall short in weight, Coach Weir is not pessimistic in regard to the coming season. His hopes are bright as he outlines his plans for the season. He returned this week from Evanston, Ill., where he and Assistant Coach Binnion attended the summer coaching school at Northwestern University. With a hatful of new ideas and ambitions he will oversee the issuing of equipment for the 1929 team next Thursday and Friday, and on September 2 will start drilling for the first game, with Frederick, Okla., September 20.

MISS WILLS SEEMS SURE OF WOMEN'S TENNIS TITLE

New York, Aug. 24.—(P)—Having defeated three opponents in love sets and lost only one game each to the other two, Helen Wills stood today within reach of her sixth United States women's singles championship.

Mrs. Phoebe Watson, English player, remained to dispute Queen Helen's progress, and in spite of her impressive victory over Helen Jacobs in the semi-finals by scores of 6-1, 3-6, 6-4, the British star was given only the slimmest of chances to stop the champion.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS . . . By Laufer

VICTORIO CAMPOLO, the South American sky-scraper, may be a big bum. Or he may be a good fighter. Or he may be a coming champion. Anyhow, just at the present time, he comes as a huge relief to the long suffering customers, who have been reading about the silly Stribblings, Sharkeys, Schmellings, et al.

Campo is like the long-deferred money from home—the good old basket of chips on a frosty morning. The bumptious behemoth of Buenos Aires may be the savior of the heavyweight situation. He stands six feet six and one-half inches and weighs 224 pounds, which in itself is enough to cause excitement. Of course, there have been mastodons in the ring before. And for the most part they have been palookas.

Jess Willard was a giant, slightly smaller than Campo, and he won the heavyweight championship. But he was never a great champion. However, he could hold out a long left arm and keep a lot of ambitious maulers at a distance and win the decision.

But as we all know, Jack Dempsey got around that. Fred Fulton, Carl Morris, Wayne and Monte Munn were colossal fighters. They had a brief day in the limelight, but their chief bid for fame was their fancy diving into the resin box. That is why a lot of guys are already predicting a like future for big Victorio.

Jim Jeffries was a giant and a lot of people still think he was the greatest fighter of them all. Louis Angel Firpo, the Wild Bull of the Pampas, a compatriot of Campo's, was big and tough and nobody's chump in the ring. And neither was he outside of the ring, for he went back to South America with a very tidy bundle of dough after his short campaign in the American ring.

SPUDDERS BOW TO BUFFS FOR RUBBER GAME

Lindsey Holds Leaders Safe All the Way, While Houston Batsmen Pounce on Messenger's Offerings and Drive Him to Showers, Loss Reduces Margin.

(By the Associated Press.)

Thanks to strong-arm pitching by Big Jim Lindsey, who is expected to labor for the Cardinals next year, Gene Bailey's Buffs knocked the Spudders dampers down, 5 to 2, in the rubber game of their series by the Bayou, and again were poised a game and a half from the top today.

It was the fifth loss in six starts for the leaders since they hit the road. In the midst of their worst batting slump of the year, Gallaway's stalwarts could reap only six hits off Lindsey, who achieved his eighteenth victory. Messenger was knocked from the hill for the second consecutive time.

The next three afternoons may prove the Spudders' salvation. They joined with Claude Robertson's Exporters, who, if anything, are out-slumping the Oilers, just having undergone a seven-game losing streak. The series offers the Spuds a chance to snap out of it. On the other hand, the Buffs are forced to entertain for three days the Fort Worth Kittens, and there is considerable feeling between the two clubs. Pancha Snyder will fire both barrels at his former charges.

Shreveport is getting some valuable reinforcements and may yet get in the thick of the second half fight. Bill Morrell, purchased from Birmingham, made his first start for the Sports and blanked San Antonio, 3 to 0, allowing three hits. He struck out eight. Parks led the Sport attack with three knockouts.

The Steers made it two out of three at Waco by grabbing the final, 10 to 6. Neither Vic Frasier nor Earl Caldwell looked like the big leaguers they are destined to be next season, allowing 10 and 13 safeties, respectively. Frasier, though, had the stuff to whiff seven batters in the pinches, and that made the difference.

Bill Huber supplied a timely homer in the eighth to give the Exporters a 4 to 3 victory over Fort Worth.

New York Girl Wins Marathon Swim in Ontario

(By the Associated Press.)

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 24.—(P)—Victory in the Wrigley ten-mile swim made Martha Norelius $10,000 richer today and proved beyond question her right to a front-rank position among women swimmers at almost any distance.

The New York girl who turned professional earlier in the year outswam a field of 45 women from the United States and Canada in the annual Wrigley event yesterday, a little more than a year after she won the 400-meter Olympic championship for the United States at Amsterdam.

Hitherto regarded as much better at shorter distances, Miss Norelius surprised experts by her stamina as much as her speed. She covered the ten miles—five times around a two-mile rectangular course in Lake Ontario—in 6 hours, 24 minutes, 22 seconds, nearly ten minutes faster than Ethel Hurtle's winning time in the first Wrigley marathon for women last year.

Second place and $3,000 went to Ruth Tower (Mrs. George Corsan) of Denver; third place and $1,000 to Mrs. Evelyn Armstrong, of Detroit, mother of two children, one of them six months old. Seventeen-year-old Leah Riley of Kearsburg, N. J., won $600 for finishing fourth and Miss Herit $400 for fifth place. There was only one other finisher, Dorothy Widmer of Seattle, Wash. The first five to finish automatically qualified for the 15-mile open marathon to be held here next Wednesday.

DEMPSEY SAYS GERMAN PUGILIST MADE MISTAKE

(By the Associated Press.)

Chicago, Aug. 24.—(P)—Jack Dempsey believes Max Schmeling, his German double, has made a serious mistake—one that may prove extremely costly to his future in the boxing game—by returning to Germany before battling out his troubles in the United States.

"I think Schmeling should have stayed here until he cleared up his difficulty with the New York Commission and his managerial troubles," Dempsey said. "He should keep on fighting too, for he will lose ground in remaining idle very long."

"Schmeling has just started and he needs plenty of fights if he hopes to win the championship," the former champion asserted.

Dempsey today named Ray C. Alvis a Chicago fight manager, as matchmaker for his promotional activities at the coliseum.

WESTERN OPEN GOLF MEET SEEING SOME UNUSUALLY LOW SCORES

Milwaukee, Aug. 24.—(P)—The tussle for the western open golf crown bounded into the final 36-hole stretch today but the result was a toss up among a group of par smashers.

Tommy Armour, veteran Scot professional who was forced to shoot a record breaking round of 65, five under par, to snatch the tournament medal, sat in the whip seat with a 136 total for the initial 36 holes.

Trailing him by two strokes was Gene Sarazen, noteworthy Italian from Flushing, Long Island. Horton Smith, of Joplin, Mo., the sensation of 1929 golf, had a 139, while three more shot makers—Willard and Jack Hutchinson of Chicago, and Joe Kirkwood, the wandering trick shot artist—crowded with 141's.

Seventy-two entrants who finished the first 36 holes in 152 strokes or less over the undulating Ozaukee Country Club championship course, remained in today's field, but only the first 13 were granted a sporting chance.

CUBS INCREASE MARGIN OF LEAD

BARRAGE OF HOME RUNS GIVES CHICAGO WIN OVER LOWLY PHILLIES

(By the Associated Press.)

The Cubs approached the end of their final eastern invasion yesterday by blasting another victory from the Phillies, this time with an artistic home run barrage in the park which really gave birth to the modern four-base epidemic. Hack Wilson's thirty-third, with two on in the sixth, Rogers Hornsby's twenty-eighth, with one on in the seventh, and Zach Taylor's first, with the bases empty in the eighth, enabled the Cubs to win, 6 to 1, and, incidentally, add half a game to their lead.

Wilson's drive not only smashed a scoreless tie and gave the Cubs their ultimate winning edge, but also lifted the stocky Chicago outfielder into a tie with Babe Ruth and Chuck Klein for the inter-league home run leadership.

Bob Smith hurled the Braves to a 5 to 2 victory over the Cardinals at Boston yesterday, despite a home run by his pitching rival, Jess Haines. Moisture in the box office again caused the Robins to decide upon a day of idleness.

Having run a losing streak to three straight games, a season's record for their club, the Athletics added another to their string yesterday just to prove there was no fluke about it. Hal McKinn, right-hander, came to the front with a five-hit game as the White Sox pounded old Jack Quinn just hard enough to win, 3 to 1.

In losing to the Browns 5 to 0 at St. Louis, the Yankees also created a season's record. It was the first time they had run into two doses of whitewash on successive afternoons.

Sad Sam Jones pitched the Senators to a 1 to 0 victory over the Tigers at Detroit, and Danny MacFadden outlasted Willis Hudlin as the Red Sox hammered out an 8 to 5 decision over the Indians at Cleveland.

Vernon Team To Play Quannah at Box School House

(By the Associated Press.)

The Vernon baseball team, composed of star members of the Vernon Sunday school league, will meet the Quannah team tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the Box school diamond southeast of Vernon. The teams met for the first time last Sunday at Quannah and the game resulted in a 10 to 6 win for the Quannah club. It was the first trial of the newly organized Vernon team, however, and proof of the improvement of the club was shown by its victories over Thalia last Tuesday and over Fargo, one of the strongest teams of the section, last Thursday.

Manager W. B. Smith has not announced his pitcher yet, and with several good ones to select from it is not known just who will draw the hurling assignment. Bert Williams, former Presbyterian ace, may get the job, although he has not pitched for the Vernon team yet. J. K. Lankford is a likely candidate, if Williams' services are not obtainable.

Vernon's lineup for the game tomorrow afternoon will be composed of the following: Rainwater, short stop; Carney, second base; Bob Williams, third base; Shoemaker, left field; Curran, catcher; Sands, center field; Burgess, first base; Bridges, right field; Bert Williams, Lankford or Buzbee, pitcher.

New Compacts for Beauty

—Winning by a Nose—

THIS word-compact—contains beauty aids that have been passed along by word of mouth—as the French hand down their most precious beauty recipes from generation to generation.

It's a cold day. Peep into the mirror of your tiny vanity case. The most prominent feature of your face—your nose—pops into view first.

Is it red? If it is and you suffer from red nose continually, three things need attention: hygiene, circulation, diet.

Your nose should be cleaned as regularly as your face, your eyes, your teeth or any other part of your body.

In fact, the mechanism of your nose with its moistened membrane, and numberless hairs purposely placed as a screen to shield the lungs and throat from dust and germs, makes cleaning imperative.

And remember this, those hairs should never be plucked out. If they extend unbecomingly beyond the nostrils, clip them carefully with scissors.

To cleanse the nose, snuff up a cup of cool water, into which has been dissolved a quarter teaspoonful of salt. Do this twice a day. This will prevent colds and irritations, one of the most frequent causes of red nose.

If, however, irritation has already set in, put a few drops of argemol into each nostril before you go to bed, and apply a thick coating of cold cream, which has first been warmed, to the offending feature.

If the pores at the roots of your nose are inclined to be enlarged, use, instead of the cream, a paste made of the finest prepared chalk, mixed with one part of glycerine and two of water.

In the morning wash with warm water and use a mild astringent cream before going out into the cold air.

In no case use ice on a red nose, particularly if it is cursed with a show of tiny red veins.

Tight shoes and tight clothing on any part of the body will make the nose red through lack of circulation. Dress comfortably. Exercise regularly in the open air. Eliminate meat as far as possible from your diet, forego very hot drinks and, of course, avoid the consumption of all intoxicants.

Cushions

By ALIDA VREELAND

IN the kingdom of cushions many revolutions have taken place in the last 10 years. Recalling the sofas of our grandmothers and brodered, heavily patterned floral affairs that were kept rolled during the week and viewed by the public only on Sunday, so secretly was the work put on them repaired.

Cushions of velvet and metallic laces with bunches of silk and satin roses fastened to them like shoulder bouquets also have had their vogue, falling into final discard because they seemed no economical and reasonable way of keeping them clean, nor was there any real comfort to be gained from them even when they were clean.

Today all this is changed. Our cushions are comfortable, decorative, and far from having any forbidding aspect of gorgeousness are more enticing than ever. Tailored and smart, colorful and soft, they provide the tonal accents in many of the most charming interiors.

This is true whether they follow the more striking and bizarre shapes and shades of the modernistic types or if they lean to the more subtle tones and conventional forms.

THE tailored or boxed cushion is of course the latest thing on the cushion mart. Plain on both sides with a smooth band of material inserted between top and bottom, these cushions rely for individuality on original trimming treatments. Of these some of the most unique and dainty in feeling were seen on a number of pillows in a shop devoted almost exclusively to them.

Pillows for living rooms depend, in many cases, for their chief decoration upon a round or square piece of needlepoint. Some of this is antique and other pieces are modern. Incidentally they suggest an excellent way to use up remnants from worn out chairs or handbags which are no longer good for their original purpose.

The embroidered piece is usually applied to a piece of upholstery taffeta or coarse linen of a shade harmonizing with the predominating color in the embroidery, and outlined with a shirred piece of French ribbon or cotton braid of another color. As a rule the outline of the pillow itself follows that of the applique.

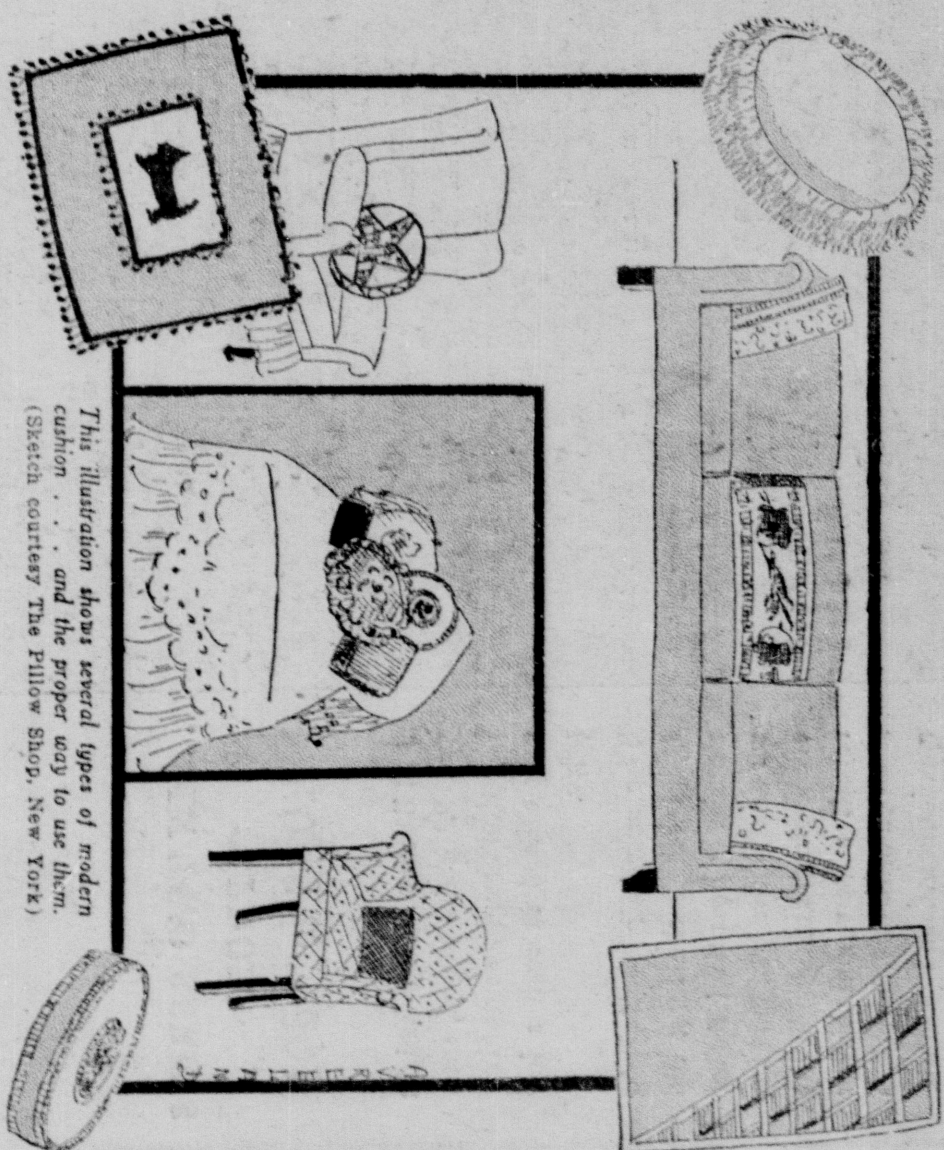

AMONG the modern needlework patterns, the dog vogue and a certain number of cats come in for a share of humorous treatment. One of these—illustrated in the sketch—shows a black Scottie on a white background sewed on a green linen pillow. The applique and the pillow bobt bound with black ball-fringe.

That Comfort and Decorate

This is an admirable pillow for any informal living room done in early American style with chintzes, maple furniture and hooked rugs.

For this same style of room any number of other inventive ways and materials have also been successfully tried out on pillows. French peasant petticoat material is most effective on three different cushions, one of which is shown in the sketch.

A round pillow sliced across like pieces of pie shows the use of two patterns of petticoat with narrow brown taffeta ribbons effecting a binding. Three rows also encircle the boxed sides. On a little square pillow of red linen another square of petticoat is appliqued diagonally to the pillow corners and bound with ribbon. Much the same effect is also achieved with a star-shaped piece of an old patchwork quilt applied with red ribbon to a green background.

This illustration shows several types of modern cushion . . . and the proper way to use them. (Sketch courtesy The Pillow Shop, New York)

Still another style appropriate for sun room use is of green, orange and white handblock printed and plain orange linen. The handblock piece is applied to a diagonal half of the pillow and a narrow fringe of the orange finishes the edge.

Another pillow in orange makes quite a trimming feature of a two-and-a-half-inch fringe. One side of this is in a handblock-printed pattern of striking color combinations, with the other side of the orange. These combinations are reversed on the pillow itself, giving the impression of two different pillows.

A novel pillow trimming mode was also discovered by using the material both ways.

It is often possible to use pillows suggesting boudoir shades in living room done in the delicate tones and moods of the French styles. For instance, a little love seat covered in a French flowered brocade might have, at either end, two round taffeta pillows of harmonizing tones.

Another pillow suggested for the same type of room is a round one, having a delicate bit of petit point appliqued in the center and outlined with shirred moire ribbon.

The Tuxedo couch shown at the top of the sketch is covered in heavy reds green moire, and cushions of several harmonizing shades may be used on it. Here also may be noted a certain attention to proportion which it is wise to observe in choosing pillows correctly. The long pillow at the back going lengthwise with the couch is of a heavy beige rough taffeta. Applied across the front is an old piece of handmade French tapestry showing two brilliant red poppies against a neutral ground. In the corners stand oblong pillows of green yellow satin brocade.

IN the French chair at the right-hand side of the sketch another color and comfort note is discovered in a small raspberry red taffeta oblong pillow accenting the red tones in the chair material.

These very small pillows are also often used for the elbow during long telephone conversations. In fact their color is so tempting that many women buy them like lion lions, not because they need them, but because they look so tempting in the shop.

On a chaise longue such as the illustration shows, large and small cushions all help to build up a luxurious resting place and a fascinating pile of color.

In the center is one of the daintiest in pillow confectons. A hand-embroidered scalloped lace ruffle falling over a folded ruffle of peach chiffon.

Even pet cushions—there are such things in this progressive day—are fashioned in tiny boxed forms with tops of modern needlepoint. One of the quaintest of these diminutive cushions showed two black cats treading a green pocket fence against a yellow background.

But through all the ramifications of the decorative ideas employed in the styling of modern cushions, the feature that is most apparent is the complete elimination of all that is fuzzy and perishable.

These cushions look interesting, but lack the fully grinders of a generation or so ago.

In fact, that seems to be the strongest appeal of the modern pillow—interest, through color and form and design, without fragile trills.

Treating Your Boy Like a Man

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"MOTHER, I'm going out to Silver Creek to skate today."

"Very well, Bert. Have you car-fats?"

Ten-year-old Bertie dug down in his pockets and produced some nickels and dimes.

"I guess I'll need another quarter. Better make it half a dollar."

Mod. I'll need lunch money, and if anything goes wrong and I can't get back for supper I'll have to have a little extra money for that, too."

"Oo and take what you need out of my purse. What car are you going on?"

He glanced at the clock on the dining room mantel and hurriedly swallowed his last bite of toast. "I guess I can make the nine-fifteen. Don't worry about the cold. I'll put on an extra sweater. If it gets too cold I'll go on over to Lester's and see the new pup. It's only a mile the other side of the lake and the tooley goes right past."

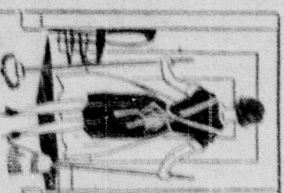

BERTIE'S aunt, who had appeared to be lost in the morning paper, straightened round-eyed and evidently diverted the moment the boy had gone.

Big Houses Do Not Mean Work

THIS is a story of a small family that lived in a small house and then moved into a large house and found that there was less work to do.

In the small house there was a master bedroom, a far-sized room for the young son and his sister and a small spare bedroom on the second floor. On the first floor was a living room, a dining room (which had to do double service as library as well as dining room), and a kitchen. An enclosed rear porch served as refrigerator room.

The library-dining room was 12 by 13 feet. That's a bit small to have a gathering table, two bookshelves, two chairs, a desk, two occasional bookcases, one fire-foot bookcase and a few of the best playthings.

The family moved into a house with seven large rooms and a garage. The dining room-library—one beautifully adapted to such a purpose. And they put the desk and reference books in one of the smaller rooms and kept the typewriter handy.

Now on the other hand, too large a house is a nuisance. You don't want to have to walk through a house as you actually use—no more. After all, a house is meant to be lived in, not merely furnished.

Where the Money Goes

By MISSIS PHYLLIS

THIS is a true story of the sort and amount of food one family of two adults and a year-and-a-half-old child bought in one month.

The family is the kind that likes good food, and plenty of it, but not too much. The housewife is a good hand at using left-overs and plans meals with a view to the health of herself, husband and child.

Perhaps you will want to make a similar list and compare it with this one, which was compiled from the grocery slips as they came in day by day, and the careful addition of all other edibles that were purchased outside the grocery store.

The list read like this:

Best eggs, 6 dozen
Cooking eggs, 2 dozen
Butter, 9 pounds
Milk, 63 quarts
Cream, 10 quills
Whipping cream, 5 quills
Canned milk, 2 cans
Potatoes, 30 pounds
Brussels sprouts, 1 lb.
Beets, 1 pound
Parsnips, 1 pound
Turnips, 2 pounds
Celery, 2 1/2 pounds
Onions, 4 pounds
Cabbage, 2 pounds
Wax beans, 1 pound
Navy beans, 1 pound
Carrots, 4 pounds
Cauliflower, 1 pound
Lettuce, 5 1/2 pounds
Tomatoes, 6 pounds
Spinach, 1 pound
Corn, 2 cans
Peas, 4 cans
Oranges, 1 dozen
Bananas, 3 pounds
Pears, 2 pounds
Pumpkin, 1 pound
Apples, 11 pounds
Grapefruit, 2
Peaches, 2 cans
Bread, 21 pounds
Cakes, 1 pound
Cookies, 1 pound
Buns, 2 dozen
Flour, 24 pounds
Sugar, 6 pounds
Honey, 2 pounds
Jelly, 1 glass
Jamblet, 4 packages
Mayonnaise, 1 quart

Olives, 5 bottles
Pickles, 8 bottles
Shortening, 7 pounds
Café au lait, 4 pkgs.
Yeast, 2 cakes
Coffee, 3 1/2 pounds
Tea, 1/2 pound
Baby's meal, 3 1/2 lbs.
Steaks, 10 1/2 pounds
Chicken, 6 pounds
Chops, 5 pounds
Other meat, 6 pounds
Fresh fish, 2 1/2 lbs.
Canned meat, 6 cans
Sausages, 6 cans
Cornmeal, 1 pound
Caster meal, 1 lb.
Cereals, 2 packages
Cocoa, 1 package
Milk, 1/2 package
Eggs, 3 pounds
Flour, 3 pounds
Sugar, 1 pound
Spices, 2 pounds
Peanut, 1 can month's time.

Next she listed the sweets—sugar, honey and jelly—and continued with items that might come under the head of groceries, yeast, coffee and tea, and several kinds of meat, fish and poultry.

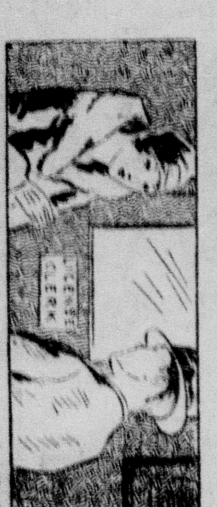

The rest of the list disposed of soap, cereals and a few other items that went into her family's means.

It may be that there are better ways of arranging the individual items of food than has been done in this case, although, this woman has adhered rather closely to a scheme.

For a month or so, it might be well to keep a small notebook with sections for eggs, milk, butter, vegetables, fruit, canned goods, dainties, etc., and to write your purchases under the proper headings every day.

If you have your groceries delivered, taking the items of your daily grocery slips will make the job fairly simple—and, of course, you will add to the list all articles of food that are bought outside the grocery.

To make the work even simpler, you might write in your notebook the names of the staples that are prominent items in the family diet—eggs, butter, sugar, yeast, etc., and merely check down after three weeks how many dozens or pounds you buy of each article.

Dr. Empringham Assails Church and Christianity

New York, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Faced with prosecution for practicing medicine without a license in his defunct Health Education Society, the Rev. Dr. James Empringham today asked Bishop William T. Manning of the Episcopal Church to relieve him of holy orders.

In a letter which he addressed to Bishop Manning from California, Dr. Empringham attacked Christianity as interpreted by the bishop as a preposterous lie and a curse and declared he lost faith in the creed of the church 15 years ago.

He also assailed Bishop Manning's stand against divorce and remarriage. Dr. Empringham was recently divorced in Reno and was remarried.

The letter said his stand against prohibition as national secretary of the Church Temperance League had made him a thorn in the side of the bishop and other good men and was one of the reasons for his resigning his Christian commission.

Average Net Income of Farmer of United States Is Set at Slightly Above $1,000 by Bureau Survey

Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—No one, not even Uncle Sam, knows what is the average net income of the American farmer, but the bureau of agricultural economics strongly suspects it was not much more than $1,000 last year.

That figure would be hard to prove as would any figure touching the finances of the farmer as an individual or a class. There are 6,000,000 farms in the United States, each an individual enterprise so independent of even its next door neighbor that there can be no general codification of receipts and disbursements.

However, 11,851 farms have turned their financial records over to the department of agriculture and from them it is deduced that a cash balance of $1,090 represents all the cash the average farm of this group made available to the owner-operator to pay for his living expenses, take care of interest and principal of debts, and make improvements.

The figures may not properly be used as "average" in computations purporting to apply to all farmers. They are "representative" in the sense that they include large and small farms, profitable and unprofitable; they produce prevailing types of products and are located in all parts of the country in about the same proportions as all farms operated by their owners.

Thus, average gross receipts for the 11,851 farmers reporting in 1928 were $2,608, consisting of $946 from sales of crops, $936 from sales of livestock, $689 from sales of livestock products and $87 from miscellaneous other items.

Average current cash expenses of these farmers totaled $1,518, consisting of $394 for hired labor, $238 for livestock bought, $262 for feed bought, $67 for fertilizer, $46 for seed, $184 for taxes on farm property, $151 for machinery and tools, and $176 for miscellaneous items.

Receipts less the expenses listed average $1,090, in addition to which the farmer used home-grown food products valued at an average of $269. The value of fuel used and the house rent was not reported. On the other hand, the total of expenses ($1,518) does not include any allowance for the labor of the farmer and his family, which was estimated by farmers at an average value of $768. Inventory values showed an increase during 1928 averaging $244, which with the cash balance of $1,090 makes a return from the farm amounting to $1,334.

STEER MAGNATE GOES TO CHICAGO FOR NEW TALENT

Dallas, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Bob Tarleton, business manager of the Dallas Steers, has gone to Chicago for a conference with White Sox officials, ostensibly to line things up for 1930.

There were rumors here, however, that the Herd's financial genius might dicker with the Sox for immediate reinforcements in anticipation of a playoff for the Texas League flag.

President Fred McJunkin of the local club intimated as much. "There are two other clubs, both strong possibilities for the second half, that are in good position to get more players, you know," he said. "We can't afford to give them too much of an axe on us."
